

porterfield

Porterfield is an indie-fusion quartet that pushes the boundaries between singer-songwriter, rock, and jazz. The experimental instrumentation of vocals, guitar, synth bass, saxophone and fx, and drums creates a rich, dynamic sound.

Their EP 'Live at Q' was released in 2018, and their debut album 'Rome' in 2021. They have been nominated twice in a row for the Boston Music Awards' Jazz Artist of the Year (2018 and 2019).

The band is led by Jacob Aviner on guitar and voice, with JP Goldman on synth bass, Jared Yee on sax and fx, and Steve Bartashev on drums.

Press and Recognition

Twice nominated for Jazz Artist of the Year
-Boston Music Awards-

“...this a debut album to be reckoned with, to hopelessly bewilder at, and to listen to in unabashed amazement.”
-Find No Enemy-

“...Difficult to categorize, easy to enjoy.”
-Take Effect Reviews-

“The overall effect is that you are not really sure whether this is jazz or a prog-rock album. Or you just might say that it is both and a very good one in both respects.”
-Echoes and Dust-
